

Rafters reveal slice of local history

The year was 1934. Canada was in the midst of a world-wide depression with many thousands of people unemployed.

In Europe, Nazism was on the rise and the stage was being set for the Second World War.

Closer to home, life went on despite the hardships.

On the shores of Halls Lake a new roof was being constructed on the home of Eugene Ackerman.

On October 24, as the work on the roof was being completed, Mr. Ackerman placed a letter and the October 18 edition of the Toronto daily Star between the roof rafters.

Last week, more than 50 years later, Austen Beal discovered the letter and newspaper while carrying out repairs to the roof. The letter was slightly water stained, but in remarkably good condition.

Addressed, "To Whom it May Be", the letter states in part "I am laying this paper, Toronto Daily Star date

Oct. 18, 1934. This new roof is being put on by Eugene G. Ackerman of Buffalo, New York, Glen Brown of Toronto, Geo. Deacon, Halls Lake and Mack McCullum, Halls Lake--four with myself and all good honest workmen. The camps that house the workmen who built the new road from Kirkfield to Dorset just closed this week. Many worked for $5 per month and board.

"At this writing we are in the midst of one of the worst depressions the U.S. and Canada ever experienced--also whiskey and beer a detriment to our young generation. Hoping people are more grateful to God when this is found than today. Signed...Eugene G. Ackerman."

The newspaper had not survived the rigors of 50 years as well as the letter. The pages have turned dark brown and much of the edition is missing, no doubt used by squirrels to build nests. But, the part that remains is legible and provides an interesting glimpse of a bygone era.

The Liberal Party, under Premier Mitchell Hepburn was in power following the defeat of the Conservatives. An editorial refers to the, "Exposures being made of gross mismanagement and of misgovernment which went on under the late government and predicts that the revelations, "would be enough, one would think to keep Conservatives out of office for a generation.

As it turned out, the Conservatives were back in power within ten years and would remain in office until 1985.

Mr. Ackerman's reference to the work camp is echoed in the edition of The Star which noted that pulp cutters in Northern Ontario were on strike. The men were being paid $2.25 per cord and were asking for $2.50 per cord, plus an additional $40 to $50 a month. The report notes that it

South Lake owners form association

Property owners on South Lake in Snowdon Township have formed an association. The group was formed Saturday at a meeting at one of the cottages on the lake.

According to the new president of the organization, Barb Lester, the group has a number of concerns in protecting the interests of property owners in the area. The item at the top of the group's agenda was the possibility that another commercial property may be allowed on the lake.

Application had been made to the Snowdon council to allow a piece of property to be zoned commercial for the installation of a trailer park. The new association members expressed their concern about the impact on the lake, which already supports three commercial operations and over 100 cottages.

While the application for the zoning change has been made to the municipality, the council has not taken formal action on the matter. The new property owner's association will be monitoring the progress of the request.

The group is also concerned with other matters on the lake. The body of water is fed by a number of underground springs. It drains through a small outlet at one end of the lake. Beavers have established a dam at the outlet causing concern for some property owners.

The association is looking for some method of controlling the water level to the satisfaction of all property owners on the lake. A committee has been established to look into the possibility of building a dam at the outlet so the water can be maintained at a constant level. This would also eliminate the need to disturb the beaver colony established there.

Other matters being considered by the group include a lake water quality testing program, similar to that being carried out on other lakes. As well, a committee was formed to establish a Neighbourhood Watch program on the lake.

Mrs. Lester said she

Canning Lake cottagers found conditions a little damp and cool Sunday morning, but they turned out in substantial numbers for the group's annual meeting. For a report on the meeting, turn to page 2.

was extremely pleased with the response she had received from property owners on the lake. She noted that the individuals seemed to be genuinely concerned with the future of the lake and environment. "We had no trouble encouraging volunteers to take on the tasks involved in setting up and running an organization such as this," she commented.

Other members of the executive include: vice president Kent Lester; secretary

Eleanor Lymer; treasurer Gayle Rowett; social director: Peggy Kelly; pollution director: Ann McDonald; membership: Alan Foxton; Neighbourhood Watch: Bob Freeman; and project director: (the dam) Peter Nicholson. Members of the group's board of directors include: Kevin DeGrace, Bob Martin, Donna Martin, Frank Vanbelkom, Wilma Karelli, Ray Lymer, Jerry Roy, Bill Kelly, Bill Erz, Tim Nicholson, Pat Walton and Phyllis DeGrace.

Pair clean up at laundromat

Cleanliness may be next to godliness, but it also went skin deep at the laundromat in West Guilford Saturday evening.

It would appear that two young men were so eager to have all their clothes as clean as possible for Sunday, that they not only dumped in the dirty duds they brought with them into the washer, but proceeded to strip down to the buff and add those to the machine as well.

Someone noticed the unusual behaviour and alerted the OPP. However, according to the police report, the pair were nowhere to be seen when the officer arrived. The two had apparently made a clean getaway.

Good turnout for Canning meeting

Wet, overcast skies and cool temperatures did not deter members of Canning Lake Property Owners Association from attending their annual outdoor meeting held Sunday morning. Mr. Bill Riddell once again acted as host to the gathering.

The members were rewarded for their interest as a number of important reports were offered including a particularly informative speech by Dr. Orin Loucks of Buller University in Indianapolis, Minnesota.

Dr. Loucks is a native of the area. He has studied the impact of acid rain and is considered an expert on the matter.

He told the gathering that he had both good news and bad news about acid rain. He explained the good news was that their own lake was not being seriously hurt by the phenomenon. However, he pointed out that other lakes in the Highlands are being seriously threatened. He noted that a number of lakes have reached the seriously stressed category and that many others are going through alterations caused by the input of acid rain.

Dr. Loucks said he placed a great deal of confidence in the efforts of U.S. representative Drew Lewis and Canadian representative Bill Davis to nudge their respective governments closer to an agreement to curb acid rain causing emission. He noted that the former Ontario premier carries a great deal of credibility in the United States, as does his counterpart on the committee. He suggested that their joint report could prove to be the catalyst which results in a more concerted effort on the part of both governments to rectify the problem.

The speaker said he felt the American public is beginning to become aware of the impact of acid rain, particularly in areas where tree growth is being affected. He suggested that by 1986 public opinion will grow strong enough to see a reversal in government policy.

Dr. Loucks also expressed concern over a different threat, this time coming from an increase in ozone. He noted ozone came from the same sources as acid rain and its impact could be seen in the dulling of the autumn colours. He said the increase in the brown hues in the fall was an indication of problems caused by this chemical.

He also suggested that visibility is decreasing in the Highlands. Using his own experience as an example, he said it was often possible during his youth, to see the Gooderham fire tower from the top of a hill on the far side of Canning Lake. He said that is a rarity now, the result of increased particles in the air.

Lake activities

Members of the Canning Lake Property Owners Association were reminded about the fun day which will be held August 3 at the Ingoldsby ball diamond. In conjunction with this activity, sailing contests will take place on the lake. A wiener roast will follow.

Golfers were reminded of the July 21 tournament at the Beaverbrook Golf Club, with tee off time slated for 8:30 a.m.

Members were also advised that this is an election year in the Highlands and the advance poll date has been set at November 2.

Before the meeting ended, a new slate of officers for the coming year was chosen. Approved by the membership were the following officers and directors: past president Joe Stauffer; president Jim Mitchell; vice president Ken Williamson; secretary Whit Morris; treasurer Bruce Farmer; and directors Dale DeAth, June Jefford, Dave Jefford, Morgan Loucks, Wes Lytle, Ed Ramsdale, Bill Riddell, Jack Robson, Don Russell, and Roger Mole.

Danny Stiver and Austen Bell work on the roof where the October 13, 1934 newspaper was found with a note written by Eugene Ackerman.

Depression woes related

took one man a day to cut a cord of wood, and goes on to say that the striking workers were suffering from hunger.

Another item notes the contract for the construction of the highway from Kenora to the Manitoba border had been awarded to a Toronto firm for one million dollars.

While President Roosevelt was in favour of the St. Lawrence Seaway project, Premier Hepburn was on record as being opposed because the project was "Totally uneconomic under the present conditions."

In world news, Germany was preparing for the 1936 Olympics, and to prove the government was not racist, was allowing Jewish athletes to participate in training sessions.

In an interview with a rather unsympathetic reporter, a Herr Rochling extolled the back to the land philosophy of the party leader Adolph Hitler, arguing that every worker should have his own home and a plot of land. He also called for the return of the Saar region, then being held by France.

In sports, Dizzy and Daffy Dean were reported to be exhausted from their many public engagements following their rise to prominence as the pitching heroes of the St. Louis Cardinals in the World Series.

October 18 also marked the first day of the training season for the Toronto Maple Leafs. Coach Dick Irwin, and coach Conny Smythe reported that their two star players King Clancy and Hap Day had signed with the club for the 1934-35 season.

On the financial scene the Canadian dollar was worth $1.02 U.S. and the British Pound was trading for $4.94 American.

The public was still fascinated with the Dionne Quintuplets. A report from Callendar noted that Cecille had gained 2 1/4 ounces and the other babies were showing gains.

The advertisements scattered throughout the paper showed that butter was selling for 21¢ per pound, coffee 25¢, sirloin steak 17¢ and sausages at three pounds for 23¢.

Women's shoes cost $2.29 a pair while men's Oxfords were being advertised at $2.98 a pair. Men's flannel pajamas were reduced to $1.49 and a sale was being held on men's suits at $15.00.

A diamond wedding ring, featuring seven stones set in 18 carat gold was being offered for $23.95, but the most expensive radio cost $42.50.

There is an unspoken irony that in spite of the low prices, (not only by today's standards), many Canadians were unable to afford the basic necessities of life.

Throughout the newspaper there are appeals to the more fortunate members of the public to donate funds to the Federation For Community Service to assist victims of poverty.

The articles refer to the scores of thousands of families who were suffering from hunger and facing their third, fourth or fifth winter of poverty.

There are also several articles on the problems of whiskey and beer sales and the lack of government regulation.

An editorial predicts that consumption of alcohol will become a major social problem, "especially with the growing popularity of automobiles."

The newspaper records an era that is just now entering our history books. However, it is interesting to note how the old expression that history repeats itself is reflected in the pages of the Toronto Star found more than 50 years after it was published.

Lake groups are welcome

Once viewed with suspicion and hostility, cottage and lake associations have now become an important force in shaping the future of many municipalities in the Haliburton Highlands. The groups have become valued allies in efforts to protect the environment and ensure the quality of life and recreational opportunity continues here.

The negative feelings directed at these groups, mainly by permanent residents, has faded over the past few years. While not completely erased, the hard edge of confrontation has been blunted by a more conciliatory position on both sides. The reason for the animosity can often be traced back to a single issue, usually centering on lakeshore development. While permanent residents, who were amply represented on the municipal council, sought to encourage development as a way to increase investments and tax revenue, seasonal residents objected strenuously to protect the status quo on their lake.

Both sides appear to have been able to see the argument from the other's perspective, which has helped to reduce the tensions immensely. There still is, of course, disagreements, but we believe the discussions that ensue over controversial issues are now more balanced, reasonable and reach an amiable solution quicker.

The contention issues aside, lake associations are a much needed and valued part of our community. They provide a community focus for their members in the social events planned through the year. They assist each other by organizing self help programs such as water safety instruction, Neighbourhood Watch, or mapping and numbering systems which allow emergency services quick and easy access when required. The groups also serve as important lobby organizations. Individually, and through their provincial associations, they have helped maintain the pressure on governments at all levels to take action to fight acid rain. Likewise they have a vested interest in maintaining the quality of the water they come here to enjoy. Their efforts in environmentally sound practices by their members, is of benefit to the entire community who share the results of their work.

It is unfortunate that it is often a controversial issue which brings such associations into being. But it is also encouraging to see, once the issue has faded, that these groups can continue to survive and exert their positive influence on the community as a whole. While there may be disagreements from time to time, we feel most people would agree that these organizations are a welcome and important part of the local scene.

Launching through mere slits, wings spread they greet the invigorating shock of dusk's cool, fresh air. Twirling and swirling, they - instantaneously - become the most sophisticated craft, ever to ply the air. Sonar beeps 'silently' out, bounding and reflecting off every structure, large or small, moving or inert. Instantaneously analyzed into a 3-D moving picture. It allows the craft to race at breakneck speeds, swooping within inches of trees and walls in total blackness. Fantastic craft, they swoop and turn and dive and turn, changing course at once or pausing in mid-air. Pinpointing smaller craft, they lock in the homing capability and race for the kill. The instant before contact, a straining trap opens. Whap-snap! In and shut. Mosquito gone.

Little brown bats, the most common of Ontario's 7 bat species, become much more visible in July, when the females bring young from the nurseries, upon their training flights. This provides an ideal opportunity to get to know these fascinating - and highly beneficial - mammals.

To many, bats evoke initial revulsion - "Demonic creatures" - the product of centuries of lore and parental fear, passed from generation to generation. In reality, the very features upon which our fear centres, are the most refined of adaptations.

Bats nocturnal habit capitalizes upon the vastly more abundant supply of insects on the wing at night. The delicate, skin-cloaked wings provide an unexcelled combination of speed and agility; their dark colours make them all but invisible. Sonar allows speed, rapid manoeuvring and identification of even the tiniest of prey from a distance - all in total blackness.

Emitting a series of 'squeaks' at frequencies far above human hearing, the bat constantly scans the echoes for both navigation and prey. Moths, beetles or bugs thus located, the bat homes in, using a series of squeaks rapidly increasing in both frequency and pitch.

The following is an open letter to MPP John Eakins:

Dear Sir:

My wife and I are writing to express our deep concern in regard to drinking drivers. We live in Haliburton County. Here we depend on tourism as our foundation industry. The main route to our county has been referred to as a river of drinking drivers flowing into our area. It seems strange to us that people and governments become outraged and act quickly on a wide variety of issues but seem apathetic about a major group of murderers; the drinking drivers.

It is our feelings that the time for toughening up the penalties for drinking and driving is long past due. Here are a few suggestions of minimum penalties:

1. Immediate roadside suspension until court appearance for drunk drivers as defined now for the 24 hr suspensions.

2. One year suspensions for first time convictions. Jail terms and heavy fines for anyone caught driving while on suspension.

3. Three year suspensions for the next conviction.

4. Life suspension of drivers licence for the third conviction.

5. Jail terms for those who have accidents while drinking and driving as well as the related licence suspension. If there is loss of life, the case should be treated as second degree murder.

6. Anyone who depends on a licence for their livelihood could be issued a licence through and held by their employer. If the individual changes employers the individual will have to apply to the Ministry of Transportation and Communication to have it transferred.

We feel that this is a serious issue that has been treated too lightly for too long. It is a mystery to us why these criminal acts are not. We are writing to ask that our government officials move immediately to make drinking and driving a serious crime and to alter the criminal code to treat it as a serious offence.

Minden teacher helps in The Gambia

Clarence and Jean McInerney recently returned from a three month visit to The Gambia on the north-west coast of Africa.

Mr. McInerney, who previously spent two years in Barbados providing instruction in a teacher's college under the auspices of the Canadian International Development Agency, spent the three months assisting teachers in a college near the coast of The Gambia. He has prepared the following report on his time in the African country.

The Canadian Teacher's Federation sponsors Project Overseas, a means to improve the educational opportunities for children in Third World countries. About half a million dollars are spent annually in providing teachers for overseas assignments. All teachers work on a voluntary basis and give three or four months of free labour to help student teachers gain a teaching certificate. In The Gambia this is a two year course with 48 students in the second year and 78 in the first year. All the students are taught in one large room provided by the Gambian Ministry of Education.

When teachers go to the Gambia, or any underdeveloped country, they take skills, experience and material help and work as partners with fellow native tutors with whom they share teaching duties. This partnership should be one of equals and would fail if Canadian teachers did not appreciate the reasons for the differences in social customs and for their problems of poverty, ill-health, illiteracy and unemployment.

The Gambia is the third poorest nation in the world, with only peanuts and fish to sell to obtain foreign exchange for oil, food textiles, machinery, transport equipment and building materials. Because of this there are constant shortages of petrol, electricity, food and machinery.

Many schools are makeshift buildings with corrugated iron, bamboo, or palm fronds for sides and roof, with a dirt floor, few desks, few chairs, only a board between blocks to sit on and the pupil's knee to write on.

Many schools have no pit for a toilet and no well for water. In all, The Gambia 38% of the primary school enrolment have chairs and 26% have desks. Students enter schools at 8 years of age if there is room and the parents desire their attendance.

These children speak one or all of the five main tribal languages: Mandinka, Feela, Jola, Wolof, and Serahule.

The Mandinka tribe is the largest. They are taught in the tribal language for three years and the Koran, in Arabic, as 85% of the people are Muslim.

Jean and Clarence McInerney recently returned to Minden from The Gambia in Africa where they were instructing native teachers.

After three years, English is introduced as it is the official language. The Gambia was formerly Britain's oldest African colony.

Muslims are quite religious people and strictly obey the laws. They fast faithfully during the month of Ramadan when there is no eating or drinking from dawn till dusk.

The Gambia is the smallest country in Africa with a width varying from 7 to 25 miles, a length of over 200 miles and 40 miles of Atlantic coast.

This ribbon-like country is between two parts of Senegal and has the Gambia river for transportation, fish and irrigation.

The Gambia's Atlantic Coast is a newer source of revenue, for Scandinavian tourists and latterly Britons, have found the beautiful beaches of The Gambia with not a cloud or drop of rain from Christmas till June.

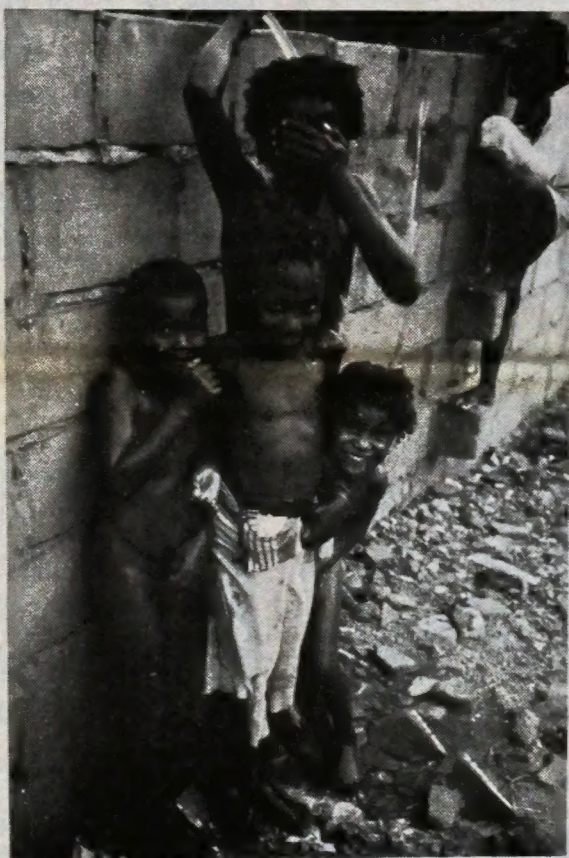

The water is delightfully warm and the beaches uncrowded.

The people of Gambia have a life expectancy of 35 years; 90% of the people cannot read or write. They are a nation of merchants it seems, for the streets of every village, town and city appear to be one long string of vendors and hawkers selling a wide variety of wares; dresses, suits, food, handicrafts, leather goods, carvings, cigarettes, hats, live hens, meat pots, wood, medicine and jujus. All are in tiny corrugated iron shops along the streets and roads.

The Gambia is said to be a "pedestrian economy" for the people walk for miles to and from work, markets, mosque or friends.

Transportation to the main towns is by very, very crowded buses, taxi or by mini bus which is a passenger car, a half-ton truck or van. All transportation is very reasonably priced.

The African children visited the McInerney compound regularly to have a shower under the running water provided by the hose hung over the wall. Running water was a luxury throughout the small African country the couple found.

Benefits to be increased Hospital committee will oversee fund raising

-by Bill Scott, MP-

On June 27, 1985 the Hon Jake Epp, Minister of Health and Welfare announced that Federal Old Age Security pensions, Guaranteed Income Supplement and Spouse's Allowance benefits will be increased in July to keep them in line with the cost of living.

The universal old age pension (OAS) paid to people 65 and older, will rise to $280.14 a month for July, August and September. The maximum supplement (GIS) for single pensioners in need will go up to $332.93 and the maximum for married people will rise to $216.83 for each spouse.

The maximum Spouses's allowance, paid to needy people between 60 and 65 who are married to GIS recipients, will increase to $496.97. The maximum extended Spouse's Allowance paid to recipients whose pensioner spouse is deceased, will increase to $548.67.

All four benefits are adjusted every three months based on recent changes in the Consumer Price Index. As announced on June 27, by the Hon. Michael Wilson, Minister of Finance this full indexing will be retained for Old Age security pensions. The government has created revenues required to offset the cost of full indexing by amending other programs which less affect Senior Citizens. The two measures put in place will increase the term of the temporary surtax on large corporations from twelve to eighteen months and will increase the excise tax on gasoline by approximately 4.4 cents per gallon on January 1, 1987.

I hope that each and every one of you is having a good summer and I look forward to seeing you at one of the many events going on in the area.

A foundation has been formed to raise, manage and invest the funds donated for the needs of hospitals in Minden, Haliburton and St. Joseph's in Peterborough. The organization of the foundation was announced last week in a press release.

The first meeting of the St. Joseph's Hospital Foundation was held July 3. At that meeting, Mrs. Carole A.

Pulver was elected president, Mr. Ken E. Wilson of Haliburton elected vice president, Sister Stephanie, treasurer and hospital executive director Mr. Leo Dorion secretary.

Also serving on the foundation's board of directors are Mr. J.G. McCarney, Mr. John Manol and Reverend Canon W.E. Moore. The president of the Foundation, Mrs. Pulver is the past chairman of the board of St. Joseph's Hospital.

According to the announcement, capital funds are needed for building development major equipment needs and the special educational needs of the hospital's staff. The foundation is hoping to receive funds from donations, bequests and memorial gifts.

Thieves hit Dorset car

A vehicle parked in Dorset was the target of thieves during the weekend. They forced their way into the vehicle and stole an estimated $1000 worth of property.

Included in the haul was a tape machine and radio, approximately 40 tapes, floor mats and other small items.

The police are looking for information which would help them in their investigation of this incident. Anyone with information is requested to contact the Minden Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police.

Windy thief

When the OPP received a large number of calls from a particular lake concerning stolen boats, they were concerned. However, further investigation revealed that the boats were simply adrift in the lake.

Officers speculate the high winds experienced earlier in the week were responsible for the drifting boats, which have all been returned to their owners.

Brawl

A fight at a Minden hotel that spilled out onto the Main Street resulted in two people being treated in hospital and damage to a vehicle.

According to the police, the incident took place Saturday evening at the Dominion Hotel. Six individuals were involved in the fight.

Those treated at hospital following the incident include Garwood Stevenson and Deborah McGann. Others injured in the altercation were Charles J. Walker and Beverly Greer. A vehicle belonging to Mary Gillis was damaged in the fracas.

Guild show opens

The annual Haliburton Guild of Fine Arts Show and Sale had another successful opening at the J. Douglas Hodgson Elementary School in Haliburton Friday evening.

Over 500 people attended the 23rd edition of the sale on Friday following the opening ceremonies.

The doors to the school were opened at 7:30 p.m. allowing the visitors some 40 minutes to examine numerous paintings hung on the walls of the library and an opportunity to watch artist David Risk in the process of completing one of his wildlife drawings.

As the ceremonies got underway, Linda Beachli past president of the Guild, paid tribute to Pat Irwin, convener of the exhibition and the organizing committee for their efforts in preparing the huge display of arts and crafts.

Mrs. Beachli then introduced Victoria-Haliburton MPP John Eakins who officially opened the show.

In his remarks, Mr. Eakins, the newly appointed Minister of Tourism and Recreation described the annual show as being one of the great attractions in the tourism field in the province and one which will bring many visitors to the Highlands. He commended the guild members for their work and their contribution to the community.

Following his brief opening remarks, Mr. Eakins presented a scholarship to Betty Wilkenson of Fenelon Falls, the first prize winner in the weaving category.

Other Haliburton Highlands School of Fine Arts scholarship winners were: Ceramics

Shoppers found many interesting items for sale at the annual Haliburton which opened last Friday evening.

First Craig Rogers of Shanty Bay, Ontario. Second: Paul Johnston of Barrie. Decorative Wood: First Charles Coates of Niagara Falls. Mr. Coates also received the Ontario Craft Award. Second Peter Taylor of Gilmour. Knitting: First Nancy Lee of Caesarea. Quilting: Terry Pilchier of Markham. Painting: First: Fred Seedhouse of Norland; Second Shirley Gray of Willowdale.

The list of winners gives an indication that the artists and craftspeople who are members of the guild, represent many different areas of the province.

Most of the artists represented at the show have been members of the Guild for more than three years and have been involved in various guild exhibitions.

Following the presentation of the scholarships, the guild choir under the direction of Marilyn Stouffer, performed six numbers to the delight of the audience. Then the doors to the gymnasium were thrown open and the crowd surged through for their first look at the exhibition.

In keeping with the theme "The Early Days" numerous antiques provided by area residents and the Haliburton County Museum were displayed throughout the hall, adding to the pioneer flavour.

The work of the guild members on display ranged from the whimsical to the ornate and included a variety of styles and techniques in many different disciplines.

Sales were brisk throughout the evening, an indication of the quality of the work and the enthusiastic reception by the public.

The show and sale continues at the Senior Elementary School until July 20.

Haliburton Juniors lead league into finals

With only a couple of weeks left in the regular season, THE Haliburton Juniors continue their winning ways and are comfortably sitting in first place.

On the holiday Monday the Wilberforce team travelled to Haliburton and were beaten by the Juniors 23 to 3. In Minden that same night, the closest contest of the week took place, with the Minden Juniors losing to the Haliburton Seniors 3 to 2. Betty Whiteway was on the mound for the Haliburton team while Cheryl Dillon pitched for the Juniors.

In Gooderham, the Minden Dixie Lee Seniors defeated the home team 13 to 5. Barb Winn had a good night for Minden, going 4 for 5. Karen Dewey pitched for the home team.

The next night saw the two Minden teams battle on their home field. Minden Dixie Lee came out the winner, 20 to 15. Andrea Donaldson pitched for the Juniors while Corry Zorjen had a strong night at the plate for the Seniors going 4 for 5.

On Wednesday night the Gooderham team defeated the Haliburton Seniors by a score of 18 to 12. Jody Ainsworth had a good night at the plate for Haliburton. The same night the Haliburton Juniors beat Wilberforce on their home turf.

And the week ended with one of those popular Sunday games being played in Minden. The Minden Dixie Lee Seniors, with Nelda Cully on the mound, bettered the Minden Juniors. Terri Legge had a strong night at the plate for the Juniors while Sue Pye and Rhonda Wilson hit well for the Seniors and showed their teammates how to run the bases—without canoes!

The regular season ends on July 17 and all rained out games are to be played before this date.

Standings as of July 7 are: Haliburton Juniors 24; Minden Seniors 20; Haliburton Seniors 14; Minden Juniors 11; Gooderham 8; Wilberforce 7.

Minden has a new Main Street enterprise this summer. A popcorn wagon has been added to the local scene. The wagon, which is operated by the Business Improvement Area is located in front of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce. The wagon is more than just a fast food vending outlet, however. The seller, Susie Wingat, is an experienced travel counsellor who is prepared to answer questions posed by visitors to the community. For those who don't have a question, however, like Marg and Bob Aldridge of Kushog Lake, the freshly popped popcorn makes a perfect summer treat just the same.

Kickers play series of games

The Haliburton Dixie Lee soccer club began a series of games in Minden by losing to the 1984 league champions Gravenhurst Spartans 5-1 on Sunday.

The Dixie Lee team will be playing their home games at the Archie Stouffer Elementary School while repairs are made to the playing field at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School.

The Haliburton team opened their season with a 2-1 victory over Gravenhurst in May but the tables were turned on Sunday as the visiting team dominated play.

The Spartans scored twice in the first half then added two more goals in the second, before Mike Hatkoski scored on a hard kick from 15 yards out.

Gravenhurst then went on to take the 5-1 win. Haliburton came very close in the opening half, hitting the crossbar and uprights on several shots but were unable to maintain a constant attack.

Their style of play calls for the mid-fielders to pass the ball ahead at every opportunity to the speedy forwards Tim Davies and Mike Hatkoski but Gravenhurst was able to nullify this strategy.

The loss put Haliburton in sixth place in eight team lead.

On the previous weekend the top players in the league, playing as the Muskoka Selects met the National Junior team in an exhibition match and were defeated 6-0 by the club that will represent Canada in a future world cup.

On Saturday, July 6, five players from the Dixie Lee team took part in an exhibition game in Bracebridge. The players, Ivor Thompson, Andrew Shapiera, Mike Hatkoski, Hans Walter and Tim Deremo joined players from three other teams in the southern division of the league in competition against the Northern Selects.

Andrew Shapiera played in goal for the first half of the game which ended in a 2-2 tie. Tim Deremo notched for the southern selects.

In the second half the northern squad ran away with the game scoring 3 more goals to win the contest 5-2.

Haliburton plays the next regular season game on Sunday July 14 in Minden against the Bracebridge Juniors a team Dixie Lee has defeated earlier in the season.

The game will begin at 2 p.m. at the Archie Stouffer playing fields.

Agric-crews are ready to help on area farms

Youth programs
by Lisa Thompson

Agricrew is really taking off once again in Victoria and Haliburton Counties. Already 45 days have been booked out of a possible 80. This year, Victoria and Haliburton have two crews to serve area farmers at a cost of $90 per 8 hour day. Farmers can hire Agricrew for a maximum of 5 days. Each crew consists of 4 members who provide their own transportation and lunch. The foreman for the Oakwood area is Dan Whitaker, while Darryl Kennedy is the foreman for the Omernoc crew.

This is the 11th year of operation for Agricrew and this year along throughout Ontario, 368 students will be hired full time through the summer. The Agricrews begin work next week and are taking on various jobs such as catching chickens, fencing, painting, clearing brush, picking strawberries and haying. Their services are available until August 24.

In addition to co-ordinating Agricrew, I am looking after the Junior Agriculturalist Program. This program provides farmers with summer assistance while it provides opportunities for the young farmer to develop an appreciation of rural life and gain work experience. This year, 1000 agriculturalists will be placed on farms throughout Victoria County. In the past 13 years, over 2500 other students have participated in this Program. I am sure this year will prove to be just as successful.

Both programs are administered by the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food and are funded by the Ontario Youth Secretariat. This year, Agricrew is running in conjunction with the Canada Farm Labour Pool. For more information on the junior agriculturalist program, or if you are interested in hiring Agricrew, please contact me at the Lindsay Agricultural Office, 324-6125 or at the Cannington Labour Pool, 432-3101.

Armyworm alert

The early warm dry spring across many parts of Ontario this year prompted many kinds of insects to commence egg-laying activities earlier than normal. One of the insects which was active early in May was the adult armyworm moth - the result is the appearance of armyworm larvae in spring grain and grassy corn fields much earlier than usual.

Outbreaks of armyworms have been reported in several areas of West Central Ontario. Farmers should check their crops periodically, starting now, for signs of armyworm damage.

Outbreaks of armyworms in the past have been reported in the same geographical areas.

While we do not want to be pessimistic, large numbers of armyworm larvae can cause damage to crops. Control of armyworms and a number of other insects have been suggested. The best control is to prevent the pupae from developing. The pupae are not yet grown and are entering the pupal stage of their life cycle.

Similarly, the Alfalfa Blotch Leaf Miner are approaching full growth in the larval stage and are starting to pupate. A second and even third generation of this pest can affect alfalfa fields throughout the summer.

The most effective control measure for both alfalfa weevil and blotch leaf miner is early cutting of affected alfalfa fields. This prevents the larval stage from doing additional damage to the plants and also controls the vast majority of the insect pests.

In the final seconds of the chase, the fantastic senses all coordinate through the computer-fast brain to put the bat on target. Using sophisticated echo-location, the projecting ears instantly report every job in the target's course, orchestrating on immediate 'redirect' in the bat's flight course. As the gap closes in the split-second before contact, the excellent eyesight also comes into play. Wing, head and neck position are all adjusted to just right and the feet are pushed forward, stretching in cup-shape a membrane between the legs. 'Netted' between membrane and body the insect is mouth-grabbed with a single, deft neck-bend and swallowed.

To sustain their high metabolic needs, bats consume hundreds of insects each night - indeed a 100 bat colony may consume over 2 million mosquitoes per summer, as well as countless moths, beetles and other prey. They eat whatever insects abound and in this way, help to control pests and outbreaks.

An excellent booklet is available from the Federation of Ontario Naturalists, 355 Leamill Road, Don Mills, Ontario, M3B 2W8. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

15 mile trip from Brady Lake took an hour

The Brady Lake Ratepayers Association was formed at a meeting on November 26, 1956 held in Toronto and the following officers were elected: Mr. H. F. Hutchins, President; Mr. J. Chinnery Sr., Vice-President; Mrs. J. Gallicahan, Secretary; Mr. Roger Parsons, Treasurer; and Mr. E. Allison, Executive Member. Mr. J. Austen of Brady Lake was appointed Honorary President in March 1957.

One of the first problems the Ratepayers Association had to deal with was discussing the means of bringing hydro to Brady Lake and road improvements, as at that time it took one hour to travel the 15 miles to Minden. We are happy to report that both these problems were looked after thanks to the Hydro (with a little coaxing on our part) and the Municipality of Anson, Hindon & Minden.

Through the years the friendliness and neighbourliness of the people of Brady Lake has proven itself, like the winter one of the cottager's roof fell in and that spring members arrived at the site with hammers and saws to help fix the damage.

Civic holiday weekend in August is the big weekend at Brady Lake. The annual Picnic (and in later years Regatta & Picnic) is held as well as the Summer Meeting of the Ratepayers Association. How it has grown. The first social, under the helping hand of Marion Chinnery, was held on August 2, 1958, in the form of a wiener roast and the cost to the Association was $8.38. (Oh, the good old days).

In 1981 we celebrated our 25th Anniversary by holding a dance at the Stanhope Community Centre in August, which was a great success, and by planting two trees at the Minden White Water Preserve. A Mountain Ash tree was planted at the Hyland Crest Home in 1967 to mark Canada's 100th Birthday.

The following have served as President in the years 1956 to 1983: Mr. H. F. Hutchins; Mr. Jack Chinnery Sr.; Mr. Clare Ormerod; Mr. Bill Chinnery; Mr. Morley Kent; Mr. Selby Parsons; Mr. Barb. Sanders; Mr. John Sanders; Mr. John Strange; Mr. Jim Pink; Mr. Bert Coates; Mr. Bernie Bonvanie; and Mr. Jack Veenstra. 1984 is an election year.

Minden Lake ratepayers turn a challenge into a community of neighbours

After By-Law 79-13 was circulated by Anson, Hindon and Minden Council in March 1979, approving plans for a large development on Minden Lake, several residents met in April (in Toronto) and May (in Minden), hoping that an united group would have some effect on a development plan for the area that would affect all residents on the lake. This group consisted of both permanent and seasonal residents who felt, because of the magnitude of the development, it would harm the natural environment by overcrowding the lake and destroy the peace and contentment that the area provided.

The driving force, in the beginning, were two Toronto couples, George and Barbara Koenigsmarck and Bern and Doreen Berry. At the meeting in the Minden United Church Hall on the holiday weekend in May 1979, an Association was formed and an executive elected, with Bern Berry as its first President along with nine executive members.

The majority of lake owners joined the Association within a short time and with much organization, work, time, and money, the Association executive attempted to negotiate with the Municipality, the developer, lawyers and planners, but to no avail. After much delay, and many planning and legal errors by the Municipality, two Municipal Board Hearings were held in April and December of 1980 in Minden. It was a great learning experience for all concerned, although in the end, we were disappointed in the Provincial Cabinet's "Order in Council" which overturned a positive decision by the "People's Court". Cabinet refused to give reasons and Mr. Davis refused us an audience. The system does not always work to protect the majority.

Some positive results evolved from this negative episode. The lake is united and neighbours are more aware of each other. We are now a community.

The executive hold an Annual Meeting and Dance every May holiday weekend and any problems are discussed at this meeting. Over one hundred people attend the dance for a fun social evening.

The lake is being monitored for quality and the Ministries are involved in checking weed growth. Communications with the new Anson, Hindon and Minden Council are much improved. Several newsletters are mailed during the year to keep members informed of any events, developments, or problems on the lake. Executive members meet several times during the year to keep abreast of any changes. Plans are underway to join more events to be held in Minden. We want to be part of and responsible members of the Minden Community.

Founding executive: President: Bern Berry; Vice-President: Chuck Thompson; Treasurer: Stan Trevor; Secretary: George Winkley.

Executive at Large: Frank Haden; George Keenigsmarck; Edna Moulton; Edith Brinston; Gabe Eros; Sam Stewart.

Through the years, Bruce Doige, Bill Thompson and Pat Ormsby have also served on the executive.

Present Executive: President: Bern Berry; 1st Vice President: Wally Baker; 2nd Vice President: Wesley Kent; Secretary: Doreen Berry; Treasurer: Stan Trevor. Executive at Large: Ross Codlin, Harry Crumb and Pat Kent.

Harry and Grace Earle have recently returned from a five week vacation in Newfoundland, which we hear was most enjoyable.

Winners in this week's euchre party at the library-cultural centre were: most lone hands - Agnes Cowling high lady - Betty Campbell, high man - Lou Pennick. The door prize was awarded to Mabel Burns and other winners were Minnie Dawson, John Burns and R. Schad.

Congratulations to Brett Foster, son of Albert and Dora Foster of the Wagon Wheel Restaurant. Brett won the Wendy Hicks Registrar's award at Georgian College of Applied Arts and Technology in Barrie. This award is presented to the top all-round student in the Law and Security Administration program. Brett graduated from HHSS in 1984 and plans on becoming a member of the Ontario Provincial Police force. Good luck Brett.

Don't forget the movies for children every Thursday evening at the Library in Minden. The movies begin at 7:15 until 8:15 and as always, admission is free.

Any interested artists who wish to display their work at the Stanhope Fun Day Art Show on July 27, should call 489-2828 to arrange same.

Winners of last Thursday afternoon's museum card games: lone hands - Florence Schlosser, others - Verna McDona, Mary McKelvey and Bob Mitchell. We have been informed that attendance at the card party is down and if there are not more participants, the games may have to be cancelled.

Friends will be very happy to hear that Flo Dollo is home again after surgery at Sunnybrook hospital recently. Glad you are feeling better Flo, looking forward to seeing you out and about.

The Paul Warburton's and Christine of Scarborough had a short Sunday visit with Jeanne and Milt Sears.

Cliff and JeanLacey had a plethora of visitors in the past week. It began with Jean Cruikshank and her mother in law Mrs. Cruikshank who transported Joshua and Crystal Oatman for a two week visit with their grandparents. Then Bill Lacey, Dawn April and Jeremy and Mike and Jimmy Cruikshank all arrived for a few days while later in the week Mike and Jean Cruikshank, Mike and Carol Langridge, their son Chad and his friend Trevor stopped in on their way to a week's camping and visiting in the area. Sounds like a busy household!

Sincere and best wishes to Jean and Cliff Lacey on their 41st wedding anniversary. Cliff passed us the recipe for a happy marriage which we will share with you in the near future.

Sympathy is extended to Florence and Phil Robinson on the loss of their friend, Norman McPeake. Norman passed away very suddenly last Thursday at his home in Gravenhurst. The funeral took place last Saturday.

kid's korner

by Jean Lacey

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Q: When butter is worth twenty cents a pound, what will a ton of coal come to?

A: Ashes.

Q: When is a river like the letter T?

A: When it must be crossed.

Q: When does a car go exactly as fast as a train?

A: When it is on the train.

Q: Where are the largest diamonds in Toronto kept?

A: On the baseball fields.

Q: Where are the kings of England usually crowned?

A: On their heads.

Q: When is an artist very unhappy?

A: When he draws a long face.

Seminar will answer questions about meat

Bring your consumer questions to "Meat Matters", Wednesday, July 24 in the Minden Recreation Centre, Minden.

The two-hour cooking demonstration and information seminar is being co-sponsored by the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, the Minden Women's Institute and the Haliburton County Farmers' Association.

The program begins at 7:30 p.m. and will feature recipe preparation and tasting. Topics such as the value of meat in today's diet, the cholesterol issue and the new lean meat will be demonstrated through the use of slides, recipe demonstrations and a meat cutting demonstration by Mr. Concybeare of The Butcher Shop, Minden.

Door prizes, provided by the sponsoring organizations will include vouchers for meat, aprons and recipe books.

The program is open to everyone and does not require pre-registration. Admission at the door will be $3.00.

Police plan to beef up patrols

With alcohol and fast driving still the main contributors toward fatalities on the province's highways, the OPP are on full alert for the summer months.

Canada Day, the first major long weekend of the vacation season, has always seen a rise in the volume of traffic on all routes to and from cottage country. Statistics show an increase of five fatalities last year over the 20 traffic deaths that occurred within the OPP patrol areas on the same long weekend in 1983.

"It is only through enforcement and the public's awareness of the problems of impaired driving and excessive speed that we can save lives and ensure safe travel on our highways during the summer months," said OPP Commissioner Archie Ferguson.

"Summer should be a time of enjoyment and not tragedy," he added.

The OPP will be increasing their visibility on all Ontario highways in a bid to reduce accidents through the use of 400 roadside A.L.E.R.T. breath testing machines and 150 breathalyzer units with a total of 750 trained breathalyzer technicians.

Motorists who have been drinking alcoholic beverages but show a borderline or "warn" breath test reading will have their licences suspended for 12 hours.

Last year the licence suspension procedure was used in 12,674 cases. The suspensions may be an inconvenience to holidayers, but they just may have saved the lives of the driver, his passengers and other motorists.

In addition, all of the force's radar units will be utilized to monitor speeding motorists because the summer months of June, July and August are the worst time for highway accidents.

"We are aware of the expected carnage on the highways and our job is to do everything possible to prevent it," said Insp. Norm Wasylyk, the anti-impaired driving co-ordinator with the OPP Traffic Programs Branch, adding, "It is a major accident weekend and we are going to use every bit of our expertise to reverse the rise in our accident death figures - for everybody's sake."
